No matter how hard you train, no matter how deep in the Zone you are, it's almost inevitable that, somewhere along the line, you'll be taken by surprise. Whether by weather, a teammate, an injury, or an opponent, there's much that's unpredictable about sports. But, admittedly, that's one of the reasons why we love it so much.

Love your sport and it'll love you back. It's rare, if not impossible, to meet an individual who is exceedingly successful who doesn't absolutely love what they do. When we have a strong passion for the task at hand, we tend to concentrate harder, focus more, and put every ounce of sweat and effort into doing that task the best we possibly can.
